£160M HOSPITAL PLANS APPROVED

Building the police from the ground up

WORK has begun on the construction of a new Police Investigation Centre in Basingstoke. Hampshire police and crime commissioner Simon Hayes (second left), chief constable Andy Marsh (second right), and Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council leader Clive Sanders (right) all attended last Friday's ceremony to mark the official start of work on the site. See page 3 for full story.

BASINGSTOKE and Deane's council has granted full planning permission for the creation of a new £160million hospital in North Waltham.

The application for the critical treatment hospital and a £18.5m cancer treatment centre – the first of its kind in the borough – was plunged into some doubt at the end of last month.

As previously reported in the Observer, the North and West Hampshire Clinical Commissioning Groups (CCG) advised against taking the proposals to formal public consultation after concerns were raised over funding.

But Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council's development control committee has now voted in favour of the hospital – which will treat critically ill patients 24 hours a day – after members approved the plans by seven votes to three.

Cllr Paul Harvey, of Norden ward, said: "What is proposed is excellent when compared to what we currently have."

"On planning grounds, I see no reason to reject this and I would be fascinated to understand the CCGs' motives in objecting to this and whose agenda they're playing out."

The NHS commissioning groups' decision to oppose the plans "at this stage" means that, despite last Wednesday's vote, building work cannot yet begin on the hospital until a consultation has taken place.

By Christian Wilson
christian@observergroup.co.uk

This has led some borough councillors to voice their fears over the potential future use of the site north of junction 7 of the M3 should the proposals not eventually go ahead.

Bramley and Sherfield councillor Nicholas Robinson said: "This isn't an application for a hospital, it's an application for a potential hospital, and acceptance of this now will change the status of this land permanently."

"Future developers will use this decision as a lever in their favour to impose a different development for the land on this district that we don't want."

Oakley and North Waltham councillor Rob Golding added: "Some members might be tempted to grant permission on the basis that no harm would be done if the CCGs didn't support this and it never gets built."

"But that would be wrong in principle, and once you've conceded the principle on developments, that door can never be closed."

Both North and West Hampshire Clinical Commissioning Groups confirmed that they would now commence a combined review into the future of the county's health service, and insisted that last week's decision would "not change our position."

John Lewis store nearing completion

THE Observer was given a sneak peak inside the long-awaited £7million Basing View superstore on Tuesday morning.

Spread out across 73,000 sq ft and over two floors, the joint John Lewis at Home and Waitrose build will become the largest partnership store in the country when it opens on November 12.

The retailer will also become the first store nationwide to contain a designated nursery advice section for parents, while it will also feature a café on the second floor.

A total of 369 people are set to work across the stores as part of the partnership in a mixture of full-time and part-time roles.

Around 57,320 tonnes of chalk has been removed from the site during the 68-week construction process, with new Waitrose branch manager Jamie Rodgers expressing his excitement at the conclusion of the build.

He said: "It just feels tremendous to be where we are now."

"This retail store is the bridge between Basing View and the town centre and so we're very proud to have employed so many local people."

"Providing jobs is a big motivation for us and it's great to be a part of the modernisation of this town."

Customers will be able to easily move around the complex using one of several travelators positioned at each of the three entrances – the last of which is located through a rooftop car park with 420 spaces.

John Lewis at home and Waitrose will open from 9am to 8pm and 7.30am to 9pm respectively on Monday to Saturday, with both stores open from 10.30am to 5pm on Sundays.

Branch manager of John Lewis Ali Gilbert said: "We're now entering the final countdown to opening before the festive period and there's a fantastic sense of anticipation among the team."

"Although we're like everyone else in that we don't know what's going to be on the new Christmas advert this year yet!"

"It is with huge delight to say that the wait is almost over and we would like to thank the local community for their patience throughout the construction process."

• Jamie Rodgers (left) and Ali Gilbert (right), and (inset) the atrium to the new store

Approval granted to North Waltham hospital plans

Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (HHFT) put forward the plans for the new hospital, with chief executive Mary Edwards labelling the council's decision "an important next step."

She said: "We are very pleased to receive this approval, which will enable us to improve the services we offer to the community."

"This decision provides further evidence that our proposal to build is viable, ahead of any public consultation and is an important next step."

Council leader Clive Sanders added: "Delivering the very best in healthcare for our residents is of paramount importance and the provision of the unit in Basingstoke will have an overwhelmingly positive impact."

"A historic day for policing"

News Bites

WORK on a new £10million state of the art police centre based in Basingstoke officially began last Friday.

The Police Investigation Centre (PIC) is one of three to be developed across Hampshire in a bid to "change the face of policing" across the county.

A total of 36 custody cells are included in the plans for the new build in Jays Close in the Viabes Business Park, which will operate 24 hours a day throughout the week and will accommodate 400 members of staff.

By Christian Wilson

christian@observergroup.co.uk

The centre will also allow front-line officers to patrol the community quicker, with Hampshire police and crime commissioner (PCC) Simon Hayes insisting that the new PIC would help relieve the pressure placed on police.

He said: "This is a historic day for policing."

"The police force is going through a difficult period at the moment, with huge pressure from the public to always deliver, and this can't continue.

"It's crucial that we function and operate from a modern and cost-effective building, and this will help change the face of policing."

Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council granted planning permission for the build in March with contractors Mace after the office of the PCC purchased the land from the authority, with work due to be completed by spring 2017.

And with the construction of the PIC coinciding with the council's approval of plans to build a new critical treatment hospital in North Waltham, and the fire service launching a consultation into its future, council leader Clive Sanders observed Hampshire was "in good hands."

"It's so important that the people we rely on to keep us safe have the best possible facilities," said Cllr Sanders.

"The new centre looks like it will be absolutely fantastic."

"This combined with news of the hospital and the consultation on the fire service means that the future of North Hampshire is in good hands."

Hampshire Constabulary chief constable Andy Marsh added: "Police do some amazing things, saving people's lives everyday and this will allow officers to do an even better job."

"It's not often that you wish your life away, but I can't wait to be standing here in 2017 and beginning this new era for Hampshire Constabulary."

Theft appeal

BASINGSTOKE: Police have warned shoppers in Basingstoke to take better care of their purses and wallets following a string of thefts in the town.

There have been 17 reported purse thefts in the town centre since August, with the latest case taking place on Saturday as a 75-year-old woman had £1,000 in cash withdrawn from her account before she could cancel her cards.

Most of the incidents have taken place in crowded areas, with suspects using distraction methods to expose items belonging to their targets, after managing to get hold of PIN numbers beforehand.

Police have advised residents to always be aware of who is around them when they have their purses or wallets on show, and to make sure that nobody is watching them when using a cash machine.

Chief decision

HAMPSHIRE: A final decision will be made at a meeting next Thursday on the appointment of the new chief executive for Hampshire County Council.

The council's 11 cross-party member appointment panel has recommended current deputy chief executive John Coughlan step up to the role following Andrew Smith's retirement in May.

County council leader Roy Perry said: "In John, we believe we have found an inspirational and visionary leader who will lead the authority as it continues this journey of transformation and modernisation."

Mexican Day of the Dead parade

A NEW Top of Town event aimed at celebrating ancestry and diversity has been handed over £11,000 in national funding.

Basingstoke will be transformed at the end of the month for the Mexican Day of the Dead as an alternative celebration to Halloween.

Giant lighted skulls, skeletons, dancers and fire artists will all be on show during a colourful night-time parade on Friday, October 30 - the day before the spookiest evening of the year.

The event will take place from Midday until 8pm in Market Square and Wote Street after being financed by a cash boost of £11,507 from Arts Council England.

Originating from South America, the Mexican Day of the Dead honours the lives of the departed.

The event will be delivered by Proteus Theatre Company, and is part of the borough council's annual programme to attract more visitors to the Top of Town.

Deputy leader Cllr Terri Reid said: "This is a very exciting new community event for Basingstoke."

Anti-hate crime group formed

HAMPSHIRE'S police and crime commissioner (PCC) launched a new partnership aimed at helping people affected by hate crimes yesterday.

The newly formed Hampshire and Isle of Wight Hate Crime Action Group is a multi-sector organisation that includes services such as the county's police force, fire service and South Central Ambulance Service among its members.

It will look to help challenge prejudice towards minority groups in society, with PCC Simon Hayes hoping to "send out a strong message" to offenders.

He said: "As part of the Hampshire and Isle of Wight Hate Crime Action Group, I intend to work in partnership to send out a strong message that committing a crime against someone because of their disability, gender-identity, race, religion or beliefs, or sexual orientation is a disgraceful act and a crime that is unacceptable here in Hampshire and the Isle of Wight."

A hate crime is a criminal offence that is perceived to be motivated by hostility based on a person's skin colour, religion, sexual orientation, disability, or gender.

Mr Hayes added: "We know hate crime is under reported and I want to encourage victims to report their experience to the police."

Residents urged to have say on sewage

BASINGSTOKE MP Maria Miller has warned of the negative impact that plans to expand the sewage works in Chineham could have on residents.

The £6million changes to Basingstoke Sewage Treatment Works in Whitmarsh Lane would see the creation of an 'Enhanced Sludge Digestion Scheme' plant to dispose of waste from other areas at the site.

A screening opinion concluded that the proposal didn't require an Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA), with Thames Water applying to Hampshire County Council for full planning permission last month.

But with more than 550 homes planned to be built for the nearby area on developments in Crookford Lane and Razor's Farm as part of the borough council's local plan, Mrs Miller has questioned the move.

She said: "I understand that many other sewage works in the area were ruled out from expansion because of complaints about existing levels of odour."

"This was not considered a factor for Basingstoke as there are currently relatively few homes in the immediate vicinity of the works."

"However, the sites identified for housing in the local plan

By Christian Wilson

christian@observergroup.co.uk

will see many hundreds of new homes being built very close to the sewage works, and over time the odour problem seems likely to become a very real issue for residents."

The application reads: "The proposal is for the construction of an advanced anaerobic digestion facility with thermal hydrolysis for the processing of indigenous and imported waste water sludge at Basingstoke Sewage Treatment Works."

"The site would occupy an area of 2.3 hectares of operational land to the east of the existing sewage treatment works, and is not within close proximity to any important designated landscapes or conservation areas."

Waste would be brought in from Guildford, Fleet, Farnham and Newbury during around 14 lorry trips each day along the A33 as part of the plans.

And with a county council-led public consultation on the issue set to close next Friday, Mrs Miller has urged residents to have their say on the proposal before it's too late.

She added: "I want to make sure that local residents are fully aware of these plans to significantly expand the current sewage works and of the proposal to increase lorry traffic on local roads.

"With hundreds of houses due to be built near the sewage works, the congestion on our roads is only going to get worse."

To comment on the application, visit the website: hants.gov.uk/county-planning.

• Basingstoke MP Maria Miller feels plans to expand Basingstoke Sewage Treatment Works will have a long-term negative affect on residents in Chineham

Volunteer Hayley earns DofE award

A BRIGHTON Hill woman has finally achieved a volunteer youth award four years in the making.

Hayley Bench, 25, was presented with her Duke of Edinburgh (DofE) Gold award at a ceremony in London last Friday. The former Queen Mary's College student completed the prestigious honour earlier this year, having started the programme in 2011.

Candidates are required to commit to 12 months of volunteer work, a series of activities, and also successfully complete both an exhibition and a five-day residential mission as part of the award.

Hayley sailed from Brixham to Portsmouth as her residential challenge and has since developed a passion for the sport as a result – even starting a job at boat hire service Sunsail in Surbiton.

She said: "The DofE experience allowed me to gain confidence and gave me a chance to improve my knowledge of the world around me."

"I especially enjoyed my sailing experience, and have now worked in Greece and Croatia as a hostess for a Flotilla of boats, arranging activities for days and evenings."

Hayley joined around 100 achievers aged 25 and under to be presented with her award by the Earl of Wessex at a ceremony in the prestigious setting of St James's Palace.

She added: "I am now working at something I enjoy, which combines work and a very social life."

The whole Bench family was present for last Friday's ceremony, with dad Peter praising his daughter for persevering with the award.

He said: "It's taken her four years to get her gold award, but it's important that you do this kind of thing at your own pace. "I am very proud of my daughter for sticking with it."

No more cuts for services

AROUND £100million of further cuts are being made by Hampshire County Council – cutting support for some of the most vulnerable in our community.

These cuts range from the near decimation of our local children's centres, cutting from 54 centres to no more than 15 throughout the county; to outsourcing the school transport escorts service.

There are changes to social work whereby volunteers will be used to provide advocacy and support to children on the edge of care; through to service changes for children with disabilities and cuts to those who have mental health support needs.

The impact of these cuts will be huge on families, children and young people.

Coming as they do on top of cuts to working tax credits which will see over £1,300 a year taken from families in work, but needing help to top up their low wages to meet their mortgages and rents.

So many families, children and young people are being damaged by the extent and severity of the cuts being made by Hampshire County Council and the government.

The levels of inequality we see in our town are increasing as a direct result of the choices being made by politicians in Winchester and Whitehall.

You cannot cut your way to a recovery that leaves so many behind in poverty.

These cuts are widening the poverty and inequality gap in our town and the county.

We have to be better than this, our community deserves better than this.

Funding secured for Victorian mill

A PROJECT to dramatically renovate Whitchurch Silk Mill has received a major cash boost.

The Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) has awarded £123,300 to the 200-year-old building – which is the only mill in England still weaving silk on its original site using Victorian machinery.

Funding will help develop detailed plans to restore historic textile equipment to its former state so as to enable the Grade II-listed mill to demonstrate silk making on a daily basis.

Whitchurch Silk Mill Trust chairman Claire Isbester said: "We're delighted that the Heritage Lottery Fund has given us this support."

"The building will be conserved under the plans, and it's great to know that we are a step closer to preserving the mill for another 200 years."

A refurbished entrance building, welcoming exhibition and new displays telling the story of the building, silk weaving and waterpower are all included in the Preserving the Fabric Project.

The funds will also allow the mill to employ apprentices, who will be given training on how to work the machines.

General manager Sue Tapliss

By Christian Wilson

christian@observergroup.co.uk

said: "At the moment we have only one weaver who knows how to use all the historic machinery."

"Apprentices will ensure these skills are passed onto the next generation and we can continue weaving into the next century."

The mill will apply for a second round of funding next year and, if successful, building work is scheduled to begin in 2017.

Head of HLF South East Stuart McLeod said: "The Preserving the Fabric project plans will enable the team at the mill to achieve their vision to transform Whitchurch Silk Mill into a self-sustaining, living, industrial heritage site."

Whitchurch borough councillor Keith Watts said: "This is excellent news for residents here in Whitchurch as the mill has become quite a centre for community events."

"The whole place needs renovating to keep it going, and that work needs to be done now."

Whitchurch Silk Mill has been awarded a £123,300 grant by the Heritage Lottery Fund

Rural traders to benefit from grants

THE county council has appealed to rural business owners in Hampshire to take advantage of funding made available by the EU.

Businesses can now apply for grants of between £50,000 and £140,000 from the European Agricultural Fund for Rural Development (EAFRD).

Funds can be used to help local businesses expand, with Hampshire County Council urging residents to seize the opportunity.

Lead member for rural affairs, Rob Humby, said: "I would urge all rural businesses in the area to take a look at this opportunity and explore how funding can support their investment plans and help them become more successful."

"Funding could be available for a range of rural businesses from a farm wanting to diversify, to a new visitor attraction, or perhaps for a larger premises for food processing."

The deadline for applications is Friday, January 8.

Funding is administered by the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (DEFRA), with investors able to apply for rural tourism, food processing and micro businesses investment.

Cllr Humby added: "This is a great opportunity for businesses in North Hampshire to get a share of funding."

Dog mess fines

BASINGSTOKE AND DEANE:

The council is clamping down on pet owners by handing out fines to those who don't clean up after their dogs.

The borough council's community safety patrol officers will now be able to issue on the spot fines of £50 to anyone seen not cleaning up after their dog.

Cabinet member for communities, service improvement and delivery Robert Tate said: "We need to get the message across that it is every dog owners' responsibility to pick up after their pet and put the bagged mess in a bin."

Fire service

BASINGSTOKE:

MP Maria Miller met with Hampshire Fire and Rescue Service's chief officer Dave Curry to discuss the future of the service in Basingstoke last Monday amid cash cuts to the service.

A public consultation is running until December 4.

Mrs Miller said: "The plans propose a number of new and innovative ideas which have the potential to develop the future of the Fire and Rescue service in a really positive way."

'Police officers are not robots'

By Christian Wilson

christian@observergroup.co.uk

Hampshire Police Federation chairman John Apter feels that the Home Office should reveal the number of police assaulted and (right) Hampshire Constabulary officer PC Vikki Sharpe

THE chairman of the Hampshire Police Federation has called for more to be done to protect officers from the "outrageous abuse" they receive.

More than 5,000 policemen and women are estimated to have been assaulted in the county in the last five years by members of the public while carrying out their duty.

The Home Office has predicted about 23,000 officers are violently attacked each year in England and Wales, although no figures have yet been published on the subject.

But while he acknowledged that it would be near impossible to eradicate abuse entirely, John Apter insisted that until the "true picture of the problem" is revealed, nothing can be done to change things.

He said: "The Home Office's stats are clearly wrong and the Met Commissioner accepts that."

"The reality is even more shocking, and people would be horrified if they knew the truth."

"If these stats aren't grouped together then it's like these incidents don't matter, and that's shameful."

"When we get the true picture of the problem, we will be able to move forward."

Roads policing officer PC Vikki

Sharpe suffered a broken hand and injuries to her back and shoulder after being assaulted by a drunk driver in a sustained 15 minute attack in June last year at the side of the M3, near Basingstoke.

"The incident took its toll on me, both physically and mentally," said PC Sharpe.

"It has made me doubt myself, my abilities, and why I am a police officer."

"I have seriously considered resigning from my job, something that I never thought I would do."

Hampshire Police Federation has previously claimed that cuts to the police force could see 1,000 officers out of work by 2017.

And with this strain on the service ahead, chairman Mr Apter, who appeared on ITV show Good Morning Britain last Tuesday to discuss the issue, has pleaded with police chiefs to "look after who we have left".

He added: "The outrageous abuse police receive is unsustainable with the amount of officers we have."

"They're not robots, when they go back to the station, they don't plug themselves in to get recharged like super cops."

"Behind the badge, officers are human beings with their own vulnerabilities."

Whitehall piles on the praise for business start-up scheme

A BASINGSTOKE-BASED business partnership has been highly commended by the Government in its Enterprising Britain Awards.

SETsquared was praised for its work since it launched last year in kick-starting new businesses in the area from its base in Basing View.

The group has worked with Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council as part of its entrepreneurship programme, which gives people the chance to pitch business ideas to a panel of investors, while also providing relevant training.

Innovation director Simon Bond said: "The work we do is vital to the local area and seeing the phenomenal success of the entrepreneurs we support is reward enough for us so this really is the icing on the cake."

SETsquared - a partnership of the universities of Bath, Bristol, Exeter, Southampton and Surrey - will attend a presentation event at the House of Commons next month to receive its Judges Highly Commended Award.

Council leader Clive Sanders added: "To create good jobs for our growing population, it is important to grow our own businesses as well as attracting companies to come here."

"To be recognised by such a prestigious government-backed award is testament to the success of the partnership."

County takes action to stamp out slavery

A CAMPAIGN to wipe out cases of slavery in Hampshire has been launched by the county's police and crime commissioner.

Last year 40 people – including five children – were identified as potential victims of trafficking in Hampshire and the Isle of Wight. In response, a multi-agency link up including Hampshire's county council, police force and fire service has been set up to work together to eradicate relevant criminal cases.

By Christian Wilson

The Modern Slavery Partnership will be supported by a £70,000 cash injection from the office of the police and crime commissioner Simon Hayes, who is vowing to help those too afraid to come forward.

He said: "It's hard to believe that slavery exists in local communities in Hampshire, but sadly it does.

"It is highly likely that the victims identified are just a small percentage of the total number of people enslaved locally.

"Many more will be in need of help but are too afraid to seek support for fear of reprisal by the criminals who hold them captive, or of being further victimised."

Almost 1,500 children in the UK have been identified as potential victims of human trafficking since 2009, with mistreatment ranging from forced labour to sexual exploitation.

A total of 2,340 people threatened by slavery were also referred in to the National Referral Mechanism last year – a 34 per cent increase on 2013.

The government's anti slavery commissioner Kevin Hyland said: "Modern slavery manifests itself in a variety of ways; in car washes, agriculture, forced criminality, cannabis farms, sexual exploitation and nail bars.

"These criminals are very innovative, and so police and communities and those looking to respond to this have to be equally innovative.

"I commend Hampshire for its forward thinking approach to tackling modern slavery."

Hampshire Constabulary Chief Constable Andy Marsh said: "This launch presents a unique opportunity for partners to work closely to improve outcomes for victims of slavery.

"We are sending out a clear message to victims of serious organised crime that support is available to them and they do not need to suffer in silence."

• Both Hampshire Constabulary Chief Constable Andy Marsh (left) and Hampshire Police and Crime Commissioner Simon Hayes (right) have voiced their support for the partnership

The Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC) report revealed that 926 complaints were made during 2014 to 2015, compared with 968 the year before.

Hampshire was one of only 17 of the 48 police forces across England to Wales to show improvement on 2013 to 2014.

Vital Signs study

HAMPSHIRE: The results for a Hampshire-wide study on mental health, isolation and homelessness have been released.

Hampshire and Isle of Wight Community Foundation (HIWCF) interviewed around 1,000 people as part of its Vital Signs report.

A total of 31 per cent of people who completed the survey showed they had or knew someone who had experienced homelessness, while results also indicated that over 90,000 people were suffering from depression in Hampshire.

BARBER SHOPS & HAIRDRESSERS

We are one of the most popular barbershops/hairdressers in Basingstoke and north Hampshire, with over 1,500 clients per week.

We have several novelty chairs for toddlers including Thomas the Tank Engine, a racing car and a sit on dinosaur.

We have 25 stylists/barbers and are professional, precise offering precision with value and good customer service in a friendly, not pretentious atmosphere.

At Trilbys, we are justifiably proud of our fantastic team of hairdressers and barbers at both of our town centre salons, and of our enviable reputation for unpretentious first class hairdressing for gents, ladies and children at great prices.

This year, we won an award for the most loved business in Basingstoke.

Trilbys was established in 1991 by husband and wife team, Andrew and Gerry and have become Basingstoke's leading barbershop.

Due to high demand, Trilbys also entered into the ladies hairdressing market within a very short space of time.

For the busy gent there is no need to make an appointment, just walk in. However, appointments are available from Monday to Friday for clients who express this preference.

There is rarely more than 10 minutes wait and we have a range of up-to-date magazines for your perusal.

We provide the full service, including cut throat shaves, and also stock an extensive range of men only products.

Younger clients are always welcome and are kept entertained with our playstation and colouring books.

First haircuts are celebrated with a complimentary "First Hair-cut Certificate" and a lock of hair for mums and dads to cherish. Children are rewarded with a Good Boy/Girl sticker.

Get ready for a touch of colour in an age of beige

IN an age of beige, Jo Harman's music is hailed as, well, blue.

The blues and soul singer, who won the 'Female Vocalist of the Year' title in last year's British Blues Awards, will be at The Forge next Thursday, October 22.

Despite picking a tough genre of music in blues and soul, the 25-year-old has very much felt the sense that the career was carved out for her.

"Being a full time musician, or in my case an artist, is not something you necessarily have any choice about," she told the Observer.

"It's a vocation. One is born to do it regardless of the rewards, and there is a constant desire to self-express.

"Commercial considerations don't really come into the equation, if I'm honest."

Jo released her only album so far, 'Dirt On My Tongue', in 2013, with the second well on the way.

"I've just returned from Nashville where I've started recording my second studio album," she said.

"I'm going to return there whilst also

By James Richings

visiting Muscle Shoals and Memphis to finish it with a view to release it in spring next year.

"The first album has been quite successful as it attracted some major label licensing deals."

She fell in love with music aged eight when she took up the piano and bassoon, but it wasn't until hearing the voice of Aretha Franklin at the age of 14 that Jo was inspired to make music her full-time mission.

The death of her dad when she was 22 spurred her on all the more.

The last two-years have put Jo on the map.

But although blues is her big hitter, she counts soul, gospel, southern rock and country among her influences.

During Jo's show on the Churchill Way stage she's promised a selection of everything from her career to date - as well as her own interpretation of one or two well known tracks.

The gig starts at 8pm, and tickets cost £14.50

Paul Potts: the moment that made TV talent show history

IT has been more than eight years since Carphone Warehouse salesman Paul Potts wowed millions of TV viewers with one of the UK's best rags to riches moments.

When he opened his mouth to sing Nessun Dorma during a Britain's Got Talent TV show audition a very sceptical audience was well and truly won over.

Whether to reminisce about one of the TV talent show's greatest moments or to witness the man from Port Talbot's transformation, Paul Potts will be at the The Anvil on Friday, October 30.

"I really stumbled onto the Britain's Got Talent application form by accident as I pressed the wrong button on a pop up window. And I then flipped a coin to enter," Paul told the Observer.

"I decided as I had no actual chance of being chosen in my view, it didn't make a difference. So I decided to flip a coin: heads I'd submit the application, tails I would cancel and never think of it again.

"Thankfully it landed on heads and I never believed I had a chance of being chosen, let alone winning it."

• Paul Potts (picture by Max Dodson)

After his rendition of the love song from Puccini's opera Turandot was televised to five million people on June 9, 2007, Paul's shy but likeable persona went on to catch the heartstrings of people worldwide.

The YouTube video's views have topped 140 million and counting.

Paul has gone on to record four studio albums, of which his debut 'One Chance' reached number one in nine countries, performed sell-out tours all over the world and even had a film created about him.

His life story has been turned into a movie, also called One Chance, starring award-winning comedian James Corden.

And the taste of success was particularly sweet for the 45-year-old, who was badly bullied growing up.

Paul got the last laugh.

"Bullies only win if you allow them to and by keeping on going, you are the one that wins," Paul said.

"The bully loses every time you keep looking forward rather than back, and you don't have to become world famous to do this. You can do this in everyday life."

His show at the Churchill Way theatre starts at 7.45pm, and tickets cost £33.50.

Joining Paul will special guest Catriona Murray, a classical soprano from Nottingham.

Paul added: "On the night, everybody can expect a real mix of music from all four of my albums, plus one or two new items."

New Peugeot 308 GTi launches with a bang on fireworks night

THE first deliveries of the new Peugeot 308 GTi go out on a date to remember - November 5.

An acronym of Grand Tourer Injection, the letters GTi feature on high-power Peugeots like its latest, a 1.6-litre THP petrol engine.

The new 308 GTi is also available in two power outputs, the 250bhp and 270bhp - boosting the car to 155mph.

REVIEW: Peugeot 308 GTi
By James Richings

Both versions weigh 1,205kg, meaning it can sprint to 62mph in 6.2 seconds, while the 308 GTi 270 can reach 62mph in six seconds.

Its suspension sits 11mm lower to the ground than any other 308 model in the past and the new design includes a restyled front and rear.

The car comes in 'Ultimate Red', 'Pearlescent White', 'Magnetic Blue', 'Nera Black', 'Cumulus Grey' and 'Hurricane Grey'.

Inside the door sills have the Peugeot Sport and GTi signature, while the foot pedals, foot rest and gear knob are finished in aluminium, with red stitching on the upholstery, door panels, gear lever and premium floor mats.

The Peugeot Sport race-inspired seats are furnished in leather giving the car a very mean look.

Pressing the sport button on the centre console switches the display colour from white to red, and shows extra information on the central read-out.

It also enhances engine noise growl and changes the accelerator pedal mapping.

The car also comes with an aggressive looking grill, sports side skirts, new twin exhaust system with black diffuser, GTi badging, full LED headlamps, front LED sequential indicators, reversing camera, front and rear parking sensors, keyless entry and push button start, satellite navigation and DAB digital radio.

Herd lose top spot after shootout loss

Collards thwarted on final raceday

THE motorsport season ended in disappointing fashion for the Collard family as neither Rob or son Ricky were able to claim a race victory at Brands Hatch on Sunday.

Collard Snr had aimed to build on his 33-point tally in the previous round at Silverstone in the final British Touring Car Championship (BTCC) meet of the year.

But three top-10 results for the Hook-based driver were as good as it got as Honda Yuasa Racing's Gordon Shedden was crowned the 2015 champion.

Having qualified down in 18th place, it was always going to be an uphill challenge for the West Surrey Racing (WSR) driver to replicate his podium finish two weeks earlier.

And so it proved as Collard finished 10th twice and crossed the line in seventh spot in the final race of the season to ensure that he ended the campaign in 10th place in the standings with 226 points.

Ricky Collard had gone into the final round of the MSA Formula Championship in second place - 11 points behind rival Lando Norris.

But Collard Jnr's finishes of third, sixth and eighth weren't enough to close the gap on his rival, who finished on the podium twice to claim the title.

A GOAL in the last second ensured that Basingstoke Bison were knocked off their perch at the top of the English Premier League (EPL) at the weekend.

Saturday's 3-1 victory over leaders Milton Keynes Lightning helped maintain the Herd's perfect home record ahead of a trip to Peterborough Phantoms the following night.

By Christian Wilson

christian@observergroup.co.uk

But having executed a perfect road performance, a goal conceded on 59:59 broke Bison hearts to take the game to overtime - with the visitors then losing the resulting shootout.

Basingstoke went into the Milton Keynes tie on the back of a four-point weekend the previous week, following impressive wins over Telford Tigers and Manchester Phoenix.

• Tomas Hladovsky was unable to stop a late leveller on Sunday (picture courtesy of grantkingphotography.com)

But following a good start, it was the Lightning who struck first as James Griffin fired the puck high into Tomas Hladovsky's net to break the deadlock on 3:42.

By the end of the first period the Stampede had turned the game however, as Stuart Mogg and then Joe Rand each beat Jordan Marr from close range.

Both Hladovsky and Marr then made a string of fine saves during a scoreless second period to keep the score locked at 2-1.

Defenceman Kurt Reynolds eventually broke the visitors' resistance on 53:26 after combining well with Shaun Thompson and Tomas Karpov, and that's the way it stayed to ensure that Bison extended their record to five wins from five at the Basingstoke Arena.

As dominant as they were in attack against Milton Keynes, Doug Sheppard's side were required to showcase a whole other aspect of their game 24 hours later as they came under a barrage of pressure from the Phantoms.

Hladovsky was required to deal with 50 shots during the tie - compared to Bison's 26 efforts - but it was the visitors who made the most of their opportunities to take the lead midway through the second period.

With the clock at 29:33, Aaron Connolly fired the puck into the net from close range following a goalmouth scramble to give Basingstoke an unlikely lead.

But having repelled chance after chance, Slovakian goaltender Hladovsky was finally beaten with one second remaining by Darius Pliskauskas.

Peterborough were unable to capitalise on their new found momentum during the additional five minutes, but last gasp hero Pliskauskas was there again to score the winning penalty shot to ensure that Bison only picked up three points, instead of four.

Next up for the Herd is a home clash with Guildford Flames on Friday, ahead of a trip to Milton Keynes the following evening.

Bristow heralds "best performance"

BASINGSTOKE Town manager Jason Bristow has called on his players to carry on where they left off when they face Chelmsford City again on Saturday.

Each of 'Stoke's three starting forwards - Liam Enver-Marum, Chris Flood and Manny Williams - got on the scoresheet as the Dragons progressed to the next round of the FA Cup with a 4-2 win.

A strange twist to the fixture list means that the Clarets will return to The Camrose at the weekend in the league, with Bristow emphasising the need for Town to pick up their first three points of the season.

He said: "It was probably our best performance of the season, which is pleasing as they are a very good side.

"We scored four very good goals, and Floody's goal was just absolutely outstanding.

"We couldn't score more, but we can't be too disappointed as we're through the next round."

Basingstoke have had a disastrous start to the season, with a run of 12 matches in the league without a win leaving them rock bottom of the National League South table.

But having seen his side extend their unbeaten run in the cup and league to five matches, Bristow insists his side are starting to show signs of recovery.

He said: "You could see that the confidence was flowing again once we scored a few goals."

He added: "Wins come with confidence and this will help with that but we have to start winning in the league."

Sport Bites

Another loss

RUGBY: Basingstoke RFC conceded over 30 points for the fourth match in a row as they were beaten yet again.

'Stoke lost by 33-10 at home to Warrington to ensure that they remained bottom of the London Two South West table - 11 points off their nearest rivals.

Basingstoke's plight has not been helped by a five-point deduction brought about following their second consecutive relegation last year.

Saturday's loss at Down Grange followed comprehensive defeats to Weybridge Vandals, KCS Old Boys and Effingham and Leatherhead.

Gareth Hatherley-Hurford's side are without a game this weekend, and will next line up against Winchester a week on Saturday.

Cup defeat

FOOTBALL: Basingstoke Town Ladies suffered their first defeat of the season on Sunday as they were knocked out of the Women's FA Cup.

Reigning Surrey County Reserve Premier Division champions Fulham Foundation beat Town 2-0 at Winklesbury Way.

Basingstoke have won two matches from two in the South-east Region Women's Football League (SRWFL) Premier Division, but will have to wait to return to the league, with two more cup ties on the horizon.

Next up for Town is a home match with AFC Boscombe in the Hampshire FA Women's Cup next Sunday, while they will then travel to Bracknell Town Ladies FC in the SRWFL League Cup seven days later.

Painful draw

HOCKEY: A late goal denied Basingstoke Hockey Club men's firsts an opening day win on Saturday as they were held by Fareham seconds to a 2-2 draw.

Having gone into the half-time break a goal down, the home side rallied through efforts from Ben Jublin and then Mark Smith to take the lead.

But a Fareham equaliser with just 90 seconds remaining on the break away from a short corner ensured that Basingstoke were held to a draw on the first match of the Hampshire Surrey 1 season.

JOY FOR TOWN AS CUP RUN GOES ON

BASINGSTOKE Town put in their best performance of the season at the weekend to see off Chelmsford City and progress to the next round of the FA Cup.

A brace from Liam Enver-Marum and goals from fellow forwards Chris Flood and Manny Williams helped the Dragons to pick up a 4-2 win over their National League South rivals. Saturday's victory at The Camrose extended Town's unbeaten run to five matches, and set up a fourth qualifying round clash with Torquay United at home.

Jason Bristow's side currently sit rock bottom of the league table without a win to their name however – something they will look to put right when Chelmsford return to Basingstoke on Saturday.

Before the match, Basingstoke's manager had warned that the unusual fixture list might cause both sides to become too familiar with one another and result in a close and

By Christian Wilson

christian@observergroup.co.uk

cagey affair.

This prediction couldn't have been further from the truth however, as the 498 fans in attendance were treated to a pulsating end-to-end encounter.

Basingstoke came flying out of the blocks and found themselves a goal to the good after 11 minutes as keeper Christian Dibble parried Louie Soares' effort into the path of Williams, who expertly dinked the ball into the corner.

This goal was completely overshadowed 10 minutes later however, as top scorer Flood scored a goal that is unlikely to be matched at The Camrose anytime soon.

Collecting the ball with his back to goal near the centre circle, the striker turned, set himself and then fired a missile of a shot from 30 yards out into the top corner.

Full back Aiden Palmer pulled one back on the half hour mark after being played through by a smart reverse ball by Sean Shields, before Flood was then required to head off his own line as Town made it to the interval with their noses in front.

Normal service was resumed on the hour mark however, as some great play by Harrison Gilkes helped release Enver-Marum in down the right channel, with the big striker smashing the ball into the far corner to make it 3-1.

Aaron Howe produced a great one-handed save minutes later to stop Jordan Brown's goalbound drive, before Enver-Marum put the game out of sight with a fantastic half volley into the corner from around 20 yards.

Clarets captain Mark Hughes then produced another moment of magic to volley the ball in off the post from the corner of the box in the 89th minute to make it 4-2.

But his goal proved to be nothing more than a consolation as Basingstoke held on to set up a clash with National League side Torquay, which will be played a week on Saturday.
